For example, I took course on English literature in Italian. Therefore, you took a course "in" Italian. If one took a course for the purposes of learning Italian, it would vary depending on the time, place and manner. In my era, an instructor had to be fluent in both the language of the students and the language under study. In other words, the instructor had to be bilingual. Therefore, the instructor taught us how to speak French, which included employing English. Thus, I took a course in ...
